

FCC Don't Let these men Extinguish FCC Docket MM 99-25 LPFM.

The Men of The House Of Crooks Run and tell this Man what to do! Texas Gov. George W. Bush

After he and the Republicans Supervise the Country for 4 Years it will destroy the Republican Party for the Next 50 Years, Men of the House Of Crooks Relinquish your Elected Office, you are all Mentally Deficient.

Bush Gets (Green) Stupid on His Face Over Reading List!

Bush Caught In Book Blunder (SF Chronicle)

Texas Gov. George W. Bush was asked in a survey recently to name his favorite book from childhood. He cited Eric Carle's ``The Very Hungry Caterpillar.'' Trouble is, it wasn't published until 1969 the year after he graduated from Yale.

Don't let these Men Who we Elected run
our Country, Vote them out of Office they are Un-Ethical, No-Morals, and always cast the First Stone Against anyone they dislike they all have to many offense's to mention.

Jesse Helms
Against Woman Rights
"Your tax dollars are being used to pay for grade school classes that teach
our children that CANNIBALISM, WIFE-SWAPPING, and the MURDER of infants and the elderly are acceptable behavior. " Part of the text of a fundraising mailer sent out by the Helms campaign.

Dick Armey

"The American dream is not owning your own home; it's getting your children out of it". -A statement made by Armey when asked if he felt his tax plan (which would harm the middle and lower classes) would harm the American dream of owning their own home.

Bob Barr

"A senator's attention span is probably less than an average juror's, so we'll need to simplify, simplify, simplify." -A statement made by Barr in regards to the Senate preparation for the Clinton impeachment trial. Bob Barr is commonly seen as a gun-toting, NRA champion, anti-gay bigot.

Barr is definitely all of these, and more.

Dan Burton

While Dan Burton has become a leader of the Religious Right, he does not match their espoused views. As is the case with many who belong to the Religious Right, Dan Burton is a hypocrite. He repeatedly criticized Clinton for his affairs. And yet, by many different accounts, Dan Burton was one of the most sexually prolific men in the Indiana State House and Senate. His "prowess" led to a scandal around the time that the Starr report was released. Burton, fearing an investigative report being released by either the Indianapolis Star or Vanity Fair, outed himself. Initially, he confessed vaguely to having done something wrong "If something comes out that you read about, that you think Danny shouldn't have done, I will own up to it. I won't lie about it. I will tell the truth". In his initial acknowledgement of guilt, he never specified exactly what "it" was. However, by the end of the week Burton revealed that he had a rather odd version of "family values"...he had sired a child out of wedlock.

Tom Delay

"Working families trying to get by on $4.25 an hour don't really exist".

-Stated while Delay and other representatives were trying to give themselves a raise. Tom Delay is very possibly the most frightening of the old Republican leadership (consisting of Newt Gingrich, Dick Armey, and Trent Lott). He's called the exterminator....in part because he used to be one and in part because he "exterminates" a wide variety of what he deems to be pests, ranging from Democratic legislation to industrial regulations. Tom Delay is the House Majority Whip, which means that he's in charge of both vote-counting and 'persuading' other representatives to vote in a certain manner.

Henry Hyde

Twisted: Savings & Loan Banking Scandal

"...a youthful indiscretion..." Henry Hyde's characterization of a seven year affair that he had when he was 41.

Henry Hyde is the long-serving Republican from Illinois. Among other things, he chairs the House Judiciary Committee and has, as such, presided over the creation of four impeachment articles against Clinton. Henry

Hyde, in recent months, has been praised in the media for his "sense of fairness" and overall good character in his handling of the impeachment case. Unfortunately, the American media has largely decided to ignore Henry Hyde's past that seem to suggest that Hyde is anything but a fair-minded

and good individual.

Trent Lott

Lott & Racism

"You should still love that person [despite being a homosexual]...You should try to show them a way to deal with that problem, just like alcoholism...or kleptomania."-

statement made by Trent Lott in regards to homosexuality.

Trent Lott (R-Mississippi), the Senate's 16th Majority Leader, in the most recent year has seen such opportunities for democratic reform such as tobacco legislation, campaign

finance reform, and equal rights for homosexuals. Sadly for the American people, Lott and many members of the Republican-led Senate have endorsed few of these proposals. In addition, Trent Lott has proved himself to be a pawn to business such as the tobacco industry. Lott played a major role in destroying both the tobacco bill written by fellow Republican

John McCain (R-AZ) and the bipartisan campaign finance reform bill submitted by Russ Feingold and John McCain. In addition, Lott has proved himself to be a bigot, both racially

and in regards to sexual preference.
